WE NOMINATE

Alpheus Thomas Mason, one of the dedicated teachers of this era and possibly the most perceptive Constitutional authority in these United States, who returns to TOWN TOPICS' cover as the author of still another Princeton "best-seller," a penetrating and yet remarkably readable biography, "William Howard Taft: Chief Justice." Once again this 65-year old Princetonian, in his fortieth year as a member of the Princeton University Faculty, has made a major contribution to the nation's understanding of the United States Supreme Court and those individuals who "stand out like mountain peaks" in its on-going development and in the shaping of its traditions.

At a time when the Supreme Court is everywhere in the headlines, Mason's newly issued volume, described by one observer as "fascinating reading" and also providing "a model of what the Chief Justice's role outside the Court should never be," strengthens his expressed contention that "judicial decisions and Supreme Court opinions are among the greatest educational forces in America." Several years ago, in delivering a distinguished series of lectures at the University of Michigan, Mason emphasized that "in passing judgment on living issues, in resolving complexities which are in any given moment puzzling and dividing us, the Court teaches the demanding lesson of free government."

Successor to T. Woodrow Wilson and Edward S. Corwin as the University's McCormick Professor of Jurisprudence and now the author of some 15 major volumes, including definitive, prize-winning biographies of Justices Louis D. Brandeis and Harlan Fiske Stone, this native of tiny Snow Hill, Md., still has little enthusiasm for the so-called "team research" in the social sciences. "The academic discoverer," Mason has said with regret, "has been eclipsed by the academic operator who's skilled in peddling so-called research projects and in the tactics of foundation solicitation, 'projectitis.'" In teaching as in research, the eminent scholar sometimes gets lost by being picked as an administrative researcher to adorn a big project and supervise other people."

The position this individualist commands in the world of education was dramatically illustrated this past fall at the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association in Chicago. At a surprise birthday dinner, marking Mason's 65th birthday, 12 of his former students presented a commemorative volume containing 12 previously unpublished essays treating subjects associated with Mason in some way.

Mason, a member of the Class of 1920 at Dickinson College and a graduate student here at Princeton under the late Edward S. Corwin, joined the University's Department of Politics in 1925 after two years at Trinity (now Duke University). One of the handful of political scientists to hold a visiting membership in the mathematics-conscious Institute for Advanced Study in the 1930's and a full Princeton professor since 1936, Mason "is a professor in a genuine sense of the word, persistently clinging to a topic he wants to explore and generously imparting his knowledge to others. It is probably this belief in his academic calling, strengthened by his success as a scholar-teacher, that made him shun administrative duties."

For his drive and continuing productivity in carrying forward his monumental study on the office and powers of the Chief Justice; for his compelling analyses of democratic theory; for his refreshing and unbounded faith in the capacities of the individual; he is once again our nominee as

NEW ZONE OUTLINED

At "Home" Request. We're in this, not just for Jugtown, but for the whole Princeton community, say members of the Jugtown Committee when they talk about their part in the Borough's proposed new B-4 business district, introduced Tuesday night by Borough Council.

"B-4" is a new category designed for the peculiar needs of Jugtown, the area around Harrison and Nassau Streets, so called because policies were established there as early as 1766. It's a part of town which has been a business zone for some time, but it's actually a strip of Nassau, with a hinterland of homes, and these special residential character sets it apart from other Borough business zones.

The new ordinance restricts Jugtown business to local "light-impact" service stores, not fast-food producers. No business can have more than 2,000 square feet, and no new business can be started after 9 p.m. No business can occupy more than half its area to processing.

Who? Banks and barber-shops, book stores and candy-shops, small food stores and drug stores, doctors and apartment dwellers, dressmakers and locksmiths — all would be welcome.

The new ordinance also allows dry cleaning establishments provided they keep clean on the premises, and this, for Jugtown residents, is a bitter note, within the next few weeks, Bond Cleaners will move into a plant-store in the Nassau Interiors complex, and his new ordinance is just a bit too late to keep Bond out.

Nassau Interiors itself, at 300 Nassau, will become a "non-conforming use" because of its large size, although most Jugtown residents regard the new furniture store as an attractive asset to the neighborhood.

The proposed new zone would allow package liquor stores, but never a bar, or supermarket.

About 10 Jugtown residents attended Borough Council Tuesday, but none of them spoke. Public hearing will be Tuesday, June 8, at 9 p.m., Borough Hall; however, the ordinance has been routinely referred to the Planning Board for its approval, and the Board will probably bring it up in its public session on Tuesday, June 1, in the Engineering Building, Witherspoon Street.

Residents Suggested List. The proposals follow, almost exactly, a list drawn up by Charles St. John, 233 Prospect Avenue, and Roland J. George, 16 Harrison, and submitted to the Borough Planning Board in October.

Since that time, the Jugtown Committee has been quiet but watchful. Mr. George and Mr. St. John talked over their list of suggestions with Councilman Alan Carrick, Planning Board member who lives nearby on Cedar Lane at Prospect.

ROY FINDS DINOSAUR: Sam Maruca, 10, went on a geology field trip into Hopewell Township and came back with a dinosaur's footprint three and one-half inches long and 130 million years old. The print is actually an overlapping one made by two dinosaurs, one following the other. No other dinosaur print has ever been found so far south in New Jersey, according to University geologists, and its discovery helps fill a gap in the records of reptile tracks in Triassic rocks in the state. Sam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Maruca, Lawrenceville, made his discovery on a Lawrenceville Elementary School field trip in the Carter Road area led by University geologist Edward F. N. Loden. "It's safe to say these reptiles were real rascals," commented Donald Baird, University paleontologist.

and with Arthur Morgan, also on the Planning Board. In its own executive sessions, the Board talked the problem over, and the new B-4 zone, presented Tuesday night, is the result.

Citizen concern in Jugtown goes back to a successful fight against construction of a gas station on the corner of Markham and Nassau. Again, a year ago, Jugtown residents handled successfully against a possible bar-package store on the same site.

But victory over the bar-package store was actually won at a victory at all, because Timothy Sheehan, who had purchased the property with a liquor store in mind, found that he couldn't have set one up there anyway because of a restriction in the deed.

Committee Named. About this time, in May, 1964, some 30 or 40 Jugtown residents gathered at the Lutheran Church, also a Jugtown "resident," and appointed an executive committee with Mr. St. John as its chairman.

Other members were Mrs. Wilbert J. Shinn, 8 Princeton Avenue; Mrs. Robert Krueger, 28 Markham Road; John B. Miller, 123 Patton Avenue; John J. Fischer, 401 Nassau; and Walter Furman, 59 Scott Lane.

Outside the executive committee, Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Cook, who live at 242 Prospect, not far from Dr. Cook's office at 361 Nassau and who have therefore, a double-barreled interest in Jugtown's character; Mrs. Paul O. Roediger, who lives in the 361 Nassau building; and Mr. George, have also been active, attending Borough Planning Council and Zoning meetings, telephoning neighbors for support or drafting letters to the Alcohol Beverage Control and to various Borough officials.

"We made our proposal to the Borough that the business district be modified," Mr. St.

John says, "that we left the 'how' up to the Planning Board. And it isn't just for our own neighborhood — zoning must be done for the good of the whole community."

$42 MILLION PROJECT Planned Near Airport. Plans for the construction of three office - laboratory buildings, each in the shape of a three-bladed propeller, and a two-story, 125-unit motor lodge, have been revealed by Webster B. Todd Jr., president of Princeton Aviation. The total value of the two projects is $42,500,000. Both will be erected along a strip of land that parallels the 3,000-foot runway of the 27-acre Princeton Airport.

The three office buildings — will contain a total of 125,000 square feet of space, of which 100,000 will be rentable, 36,000 in each building. Approximately 90% of the area will be used as office space, the remaining 60% as laboratory space.

A request for land use involving laboratory, research and general office purposes was made Tuesday by Princeton Air Research Park to the Montgomery Township Zoning Board. Decision was deferred. The Board reporting that it wished additional time to study the application.

been specially designed for "Much of the building," he said, "will be unfinished lab-space with nothing more than ceiling and floor and painted floors but with special focus on temperature and humidity control. In other words, we're trying to give the guys with the computers the maximum amount of space for their dollar."

Completion of the first building is expected by December, Fulmer & Bowers of Princeton are the architects for both projects.

Luxury Unlimited. Statistics on the proposed motor lodge reveals a combination of comfort and luxury. The $2,200-000 Fox Hollow Motor Lodge will be erected by the Fox Hollow Construction Company of Manville on seven acres located just west of Mr. Todd. It will be adjacent to the three buildings.

Its several two-story, stucco buildings will contain 125 units, as well as two 130-seat restaurants, a 500-person banquet hall, six large conference rooms and a swimming pool.
Each unit will have its own balcony. The restaurant will have their own individual decor and menus — one is designed as an English steak house. The other will offer Polynesian food and settings.

Like the three office-lab buildings, the motor lodge was designed more with the business executive and computer man in mind than the usual transient motorist.
"We thought of this pretty much with Princeton area industrial and research firms in mind," commented Mr. Todd.
"We've analyzed their needs—the size of their groups, the place they need, the facilities — everything they'll need is right here."

All the rooms will be large, 22x18 or 22x18, in comparison to the average 12x11 motel room. Each will have a couch and a desk so if the occupants want to hold an impromptu conference in their rooms, they'll be able to without, as Mr. Todd put it, "falling off their beds."

There will be all-porter service. When guests drive up to

Police Hire Dog

A 160-pound German shepherd will join the Township police force in a few weeks, assigned to Sgt.
Anthony Nini.

The dog is now being trained in a kennel in northern New Jersey by a specialist who once trained K-9 dogs for the Army. Tracking, attack and obedience are on the curriculum for the new patrolman, and Township police believe that breaking-and-entering of homes will take a sharp drop, once the dog comes on the force.

He will not only sniff out a man hiding, but he will be trained to corner a man and keep him at bay until the two-footed policeman arrives.

The shepherd will live with the Nini family. The Township is already building a home for him in the Nini back yard.

The office a bellboy will take their car and bags, much like a hotel type arrangement. Said Mr. Todd, "It blends the requirements of a hotel like the Nassau Inn with the convenience of a motel like the Palmer Inn."

"It's All Here!" "It's all here," continued Todd. "Balconies for open air, no parking problems, good food, good lodging, conference and banquet facilities, a central location and simplicity. When they land, we'll taxi them to the motel, and no need to have to walk more than five feet."

"We've tried to ask, 'what do the business and computer and research people want and need?' We think we've answered those needs in a unique way."

TOPICS Of The Town

PARKING TO POLLUTION Council Covers Wide Range.
Mayor Henry S. Patterson opened the Borough Council meeting Tuesday on a somber note by asking those present to stand for a moment of silence in remembrance for Theodore E. Stratton, the collector - treasurer who died on May 2.

But the tempo of the meeting quickly accelerated as Council approved three ordinances and dealt with several controversial matters. The first ordinance prohibited parking in a five-mile radius of Borough Hall within two years of notification from Council. The municipality's leaders hope to increase the range to 10-mile radius. Chief Peter McCrohan pointed out that it is becoming increasingly difficult to recruit men for his department because of problems encountered in finding homes in the Borough.

Council also approved with a minimum of debate a joint library ordinance which will place the construction costs of the proposed building in the annual operating budget of the municipality. The financing will adhere to the 40-60 percent ratio of the Borough to the Township.

The incinerator ordinance introduced last month was okayed with similar rapidity. An expenditure of $180,000 will be made for such improvements as a storage pit, a crane to feed refuse to the incinerators and an additional chimney.

Parking Problems Discussed.
In the most protracted debate of the evening, John B. Redding, who owns a plumbing and appliance concern at 234 Nassau Street, argued that further consideration should be given to businesses in the area before restricting traffic on Nassau Street between Charlton Street and Murray Place. Council introduced a measure last month which would eliminate parking during the commuting hours, 8 to 9 a.m. and 5 to 6 p.m. between Olden and Charlton.

Mr. Redding pointed out that businesses in the area depend strongly upon shoppers during these hours. After more than a half hour of discussion, Mayor Patterson said the Borough would wait for results of its traffic survey that begins Monday before taking action. He pointed out, however, that traffic congestion in the area is a severe problem on the narrower part of Nassau Street during the rush hours.

In a more limited dispute, Mrs. Ann M. Vandell of 11 Mercer Street severely criticized Council for failing to restrict the air pollution allegedly caused by her neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Frohling of 12 Stockton Street. Mrs. Vandell claims that fumes from cars parked on the Frohling property as well as the burning of garbage are causing a definite nuisance.

Council members expressed sympathy with her plight but indicated that they could not take action under any Borough ordinance. Mrs. Vandell left the meeting after making clear her disappointment with the municipality's governing body. "I believe you would be embarrassed if I told you what I thought of what has taken place here tonight," she said.

In other business, Council made public the recommendation of R. Donald Barr, the recreation director, not to close any Borough streets for use by skate-boarders. Council expressed agreement with Mr. Barr's contention that skateboarding was unsafe and a possible nuisance to residents.

The Taxi Owners' Association of Princeton submitted a request to increase fares from $6.00 to $7.75 between 7 a.m. and 11 p.m. The request followed by a month the stated desire of Princeton's other taxi group, the Independent Taxi Association, to change the fare rate. A report and further discussion will take place at the June meeting.

Mrs. Constance Greiff of 17 Clover Lane submitted a detailed written description and proposal for the formation of a committee to preserve Princeton's historic sites. Mayor Patterson indicated that he do just that, and the sunshine has been warm of late. Monday's high was 92 degrees — an all-time record for May 10.

Delightful weather will be the rule for the next few days, with temperatures slightly but not unexpect-ably above normal. There is a possibility of Saturday showers, but nothing of any length is in the forecast.

and breaking a telephone pole in two.
Both victims were trapped inside the blazing car but were pulled free by employees of the dairy. The fire was extinguished by the Plainsboro fire department.

Saturday afternoon, four girls three of them teenagers, were slightly injured when their car failed to complete a turn from Walnut Lane onto Loughton Road.

They are Lynda J. Price, 17, 141; Leigh Avenue; Joyce Mc-Gowan, 16, 256 John Street; Connie Bailey, 15, 40 Richmond Road, Kendall Park, and her sister, Claire, 14, Borough police said the car which had gone too far past the intersection to make the turn, hit a Public Service pole. They ticketed Miss Price for careless driving.

Four More Hurt. Four women were also injured in a two-car collision last Thursday afternoon at the intersection of Prospect Avenue and Riverside Drive East.

The driver of one car, Mrs.
Yukiko Tamahiro, 41, 27 Medi-son Street, received contusions of both knees. Her daughter, Lynn, 9, bruised her left forearm.

Also slightly injured was Susan Meigs, 10, 16 Evergreen Circle, a passenger in the other car operated by Mrs. Clotilde Treves, 37, 8 Adams Drive.
Claire Treves, age 5, was admitted to Princeton Hospital for observations. She received a hematoma of the forehead.

Both drivers claimed they did not see each other until the moment of impact. Police made no charges.

Miss Carol F. MacConnell, 21, 42 N. Tulane Street, received lacerations and abrasions when she was involved in a collision with another car at Nassau and Mercer Streets. The mishap occurred at 9 p.m. last Thursday.

Police charged the other driver, Mrs. Kalyanika B.
Murthy, 53, 57 Einstein Drive, with failing to yield the right of way.

65 Feet of Fence. Early Sunday evening, Joseph Markowitz, 42, 38 Brachburg Drive, fence up 65 feet of guard rail fence and six posts and damaged a Township street sign Road, when his 1965 convertible went out of control on Snowden Lane at Overbrook Drive.
He was charged with careless driving.

From the point where his car first left the shoulder of the road until its final resting place, police measured a distance of 237 feet. There were

"WONDERFUL HOME!" "Wonderful Town" is for rehearsals, "Wonderful Home" is the 18th-century farmhouse just bought by Anne and Fred Sheldon. They'll move in after Anne finishes her leading role in P.J.B.'s new musical, opening Thursday in McCarter. Anne, standing by the old kitchen fireplace, holds costume sketches presented to her by Bill Roberts, costume designer for the McCarter resident company for three years. More about Sheldon? See "Theatres." (Staff Photo)

THE SHELDON GIRL
Back in "Wonderful Town," Svetle, husky-voiced blondes are not usually called "veterans," but that's exactly what Anne Sheldon is. Back in "Wonderful Town" for her fourth leading role in a P. J. & B. production, Anne has a scrapbook of experience of theatre going back to USO productions in Little Rock, Ark., during the war. "Theatre, TV, husband, children," she laughs them all off, in a row as a credible biography. And as a matter of fact, part of that experience is the scrapbook is figurative: Anne doesn't have one included the role of Ellen in "My Sister Eileen" in Buffalo, N.Y.

Thursday at 7:30 when "Wonderful Town" opens in McCarter, Anne will be playing, not Ellen, but her eldritch luth, because "Wonderful Town," is, of course, the Bernstein-Comden-Green adaptation of the Eileen stories. During the 14 years the Sheldon family lived in Buffalo, Anne and Fred and, as they came along, the three kids, all worked in theatre, radio and TV. Acting was after-hours for Fred, a chemical engineer, now with FMC in Princeton.

It was Fun . . . "Those early TV days in Buffalo were hysterical!" Anne recalls. "Loads of fun! Some of our films actually became network. We did a half-hour mystery every week, and little Andy—he's 20 now—said to say 'You gonna kill somebody this week, mother, or get killed?' The kids would be on TV, too, sometimes on the housewife show I used to have, or doing commercials and got some residuals later. Great fun." The bulk of the Sheldon experience came in the years of summer stock near Buffalo with "Born Yesterday." "How I loved that one!" "Blithe Spirit." "Three Men on a

A BULLET "BEAUTY"
Scheduled for End of May,
The Princeton Ballet Society will present "The Sleeping Beauty" at McCarter Theatre on Friday and Saturday, May 25 and 26.

The company will be composed entirely of members of the society's school of ballet. The last production by the school took place two years ago when four one-act ballets were presented.

Given periodically to acquaint youngsters with performance standards and conditions, the productions also attract a wider audience than is normally familiar with the society's work. This year's ballet will feature a cast of some 150 students and will depend upon the youngsters' mothers for back stage assistance.

"The Sleeping Beauty" is based on a story published in 1697 by Charles Perrault. In 1870, Tchaikovsky created the ballet.

Tickets for the performances in Princeton are now on sale at most schools. They may also be purchased at McCarter, 921-1700.

PTA SERIES TO CLOSE With "Robin Hood" at Mc-Carter, The Borough Elementary PTA of Princeton will conclude its spring series of entertainment for children with a presentation of "Robin Hood" staged by the Traveling Playhouse.

The production, which Jack Gould of The New York Times and "always preserved the thread of credibility and sincerity throughout the production" will be presented at Mc-Carter Theatre "Tuesday at 3:30." Mr. Gould said of the eleven-minute performance on NBC "Not a trace of adult condescension marked the hour. Robin said his companions and foes played scrupulously in character."

Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. A.A. Auchen at 10 Princeton Avenue, 924-5172.
They can also be purchased at McCarter the day of the performance, free.

SURF!
Film Coming: A "hollow day," as you know already if you're a beach boy, is a day of "hollow" waves, that is waves with faces so concave that the wave almost makes a perfect tube of water.

In "Surfing Hollow Days," Bruce Brown, in full length, full color, the adventures of a group of surfers who follow the sea of the world looking for "hollow days."
Their adventures take them to Southern California, Mexico, Hawaii, New Zealand, Australia and, eventually, McCarter Theatre Monday at 8.

There is also Florida, surfing down the Rio Grande and catching the waves in the tunnels at Hawaii's Waimea Bay.
Tickets big enough for a train is pass through.
Tickets are on sale at The Ski, 20 Nassau, and at the box office, McCarter.

APU RETURNS

In Film Series, "The World of Apu," regarded by many critics as the best of Satyajit Ray's trilogy of Indian life, will be shown Wednesday at 8 in McCarter as an "Encore" in the new film series.

Although "The World of Apu" develops the themes of the two earlier films, "Father Tanhai" and "Aparajito," it is actually complete in itself, describing Apu's life as a writ-ter in Calcutta, his marriage and his relationship to his young son.

WE'VE MOVED

Obal Crosses Canal. The Obal Garden Market has been transplanted, root, trunk and branch, to a new location. Starting Monday, the Messrs. Obal will greet you from a brand new modern building on three and one-half acres of land across the canal in West Windsor.

Drive down Alexander Street, waving at the old Obal Market as you drive by, cross the canal and start up the hill toward Route One. Go slowly, though, because the new Obal will suddenly appear on your right and you won't want to miss it.

(Of course, if you go garden-freaking this Friday or Saturday, you'll go to the old location in the Rosedale complex; real Moving Day isn't until Monday.)

It's like moving a specimen tree out of the crowded woodland into the open where it can grow. Here on the new three-plus acre plot of land, Obal will broaden and widen its selection of rare and unusual plants, while continuing perennial favorites.

Rhododendrons have always been a kind of specialty with this plant mark. "Stimulation," for example, usually a hard variety to find, or "Blue Peter" or County of York. Just think what the display will be like in a few weeks!

Juniper is another favorite with Obal, and here the variety really runs riot. On the ground, we have Weigela, Wilsons, Broombeams, Coolers and Andorra—all flat in habit—and we haven't even mentioned these vertical junipers, in almost as much profusion.

Good hybrid clematis, in light blue, white these are big ones or the most wonderful, rich deep purple, are almost impossible for a gardener to resist.

Obal is particularly proud of its rugosa holly. This is more shrub than tree and can be used with considerable effectiveness as a foundation planting. It comes in male and female, and has a dark shiny leaf like English holly.

Another unusual variation is an old friend is the variegated pyracantha with a narrow yellow border around each leaf, and a red berry. And a final theme and variation is the familiar willow tree—with a corkscrew turn. Yes, it's the corkscrew willow, gnarled of trunk and "withered" of leaf, and quite an ornamental show for your garden.

We leave you with Obal's two cut-listed maples: a green one and Acer Bloodgood—a true ornamental red.

By the way, if you want information by telephone, the new location means a new number: 432-2401.

THOSE NEW CAMERAS

Super 8? Wait. Spurred by all the panting announcements in the paper about the Super 8 movie camera, we went around to Mall Camera in the Princeton Shopping Center the other day expecting to take one home. The answer is: not yet, not yet. The excitement, so far, hasn't gotten to the Look Maw, I'm—Ooops!

Zinder's is very stern about stealing. It will sell you a skateboard, all right—in fact, probably has already. But it wants to be sure you stay on board, and so the Bandy "720."

This is a skateboarder sneaker. "Official Sneaker of the National Skateboard Championships." It has a steel shank and a heel and toe sole made of isoprene rubber and some special compound—whose formula Bandy isn't divulging, to give a lot of grip and toughness. There's an extra cushion inside and uppers of Army duck.

On the box you'll find the seven rules for basic skateboard contests, prepared by Skateboard Magazine, and a sneaker price tag of $6.95.

point of a package to take home from your dealer. Mr. Hersh, the Mall Man, says that he'll have Arpas, Bell, and Howell and Kodak models before too long, but they certainly haven't been shipped to dealers yet.

The Super 8, as you know, is a camera-film combination which gives you 50% more picture area on your 8 mm movie film. This means you don't have to enlarge it so much on the screen, so you get a better, sharper image. Also, you can shoot the whole 90 feet in one swoop without turning the reel over at the half-way point.

Also, in a few days, Mall will have Zeiss' instamatic style cameras, the ones similar to Kodaks except that the lenses are better and the cameras can be focused. They'll sell for about $24. One has a light meter and one doesn't. Comparable in price is Agfa's rapid system with a film loading arrangement so simple a child can do it. (But can an adult?) Agfa has a pressure plate so that the film always lies perfectly flat, minimizing distortion.

two weeks in Jean Kerr's comedy, "Marry Mary" which begins a two-week engagement at the Bucks County Playhouse on Monday. Edward Albee's drama, "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" will follow.

Miss Lewis is a versatile entertainer. She is the originator of the TV puppets, "Lamb Chop" and "Charlie Horse" and is a singer, dancer and ventriloquist as well as the author of eight children's books.

PLAYHOUSE
Mister Moses. (Wed. thru. Tues.) This is an offbeat African adventure comedy. Robert Miletich appears as a con man with a conscience, and Carroll Baker abandons her typical image to play a missionary's daughter. A gentle elephant just about steals the show.

The story is a parallel to the book of Exodus. The setting is an African village about to be washed out by flood waters from a new dam project. The natives, newly converted to Christianity, consider themselves the chosen people of Israel and refuse to go to their new promised land without taking their animals. The white authorities, however, plan to evacuate the natives by helicopter.

Lo and behold, Miletich appears, drifting downstream atop his medicine caravan. He is unconscious, having been forcibly evicted from a distant village because of the failure of his "cures." Yet this cynical, devious charlatan, a heavy drinker and a diamond smuggler, is greeted by the natives as their new leader. For his name is "Mr. Moses."

There are some wildly funny situations as well as explosive action scenes during the hectic trek across the desert. The location in Kenya provides some wonderful opportunities for the Technicolor cameras.

PRINCE
Harlow, now playing. The first of two films entitled "Harlow" to reach the screen, this version stars Carol Lyle in the title role.

Known in the Thirties as the platinum blonde bombshell, Jean Harlow's brief, controversial career as America's sex symbol is one of the never-ending topics of the film world. The script makes the most of her hectic life, including the period of her film debut as a bit player in Laurel and Hardy comedies, her sensational hit in "Hell's Angels," her flaming climb to top box office attraction in the nation and her untimely death at the manure of fame.

Elfrin Zimbalist Jr. appears as her true love, William Marshall. Ginger Rogers plays the role of her mother, and Barry Sullivan is Marino Bertio, her glamorous step-father. Hurd Hatfield has the thankless role of Paul Bern, her impotent husband.

Sat.) This is the second "court-ecation" film to come to Princeton in recent weeks. John Goldfarb, Please Come Home" triumphed over the objections of Notre Dame University. "A Stranger Knocks," first viewed in 1960 at the San Francisco Film Festival, has been in the courts for two years, ending with a Supreme Court decision that struck a mortal blow at pre-release film censorship.

Variety's critic at San Francisco commented, "This brooding, explosive and superbly fabricated Danish film has only one serious flaw: it is simply too explicit for exhibition in the U.S." The litigation arose from the distributors' refusal to cut two very frank scenes depicting sexual gratification. They argued that the scenes were an integral part of the story's motivation. In March, the Supreme Court agreed.

The story takes place on a Danish mark's lonely North Sea coast during 1947. A fugitive knocks at the door of an isolated cottage. A beautiful and emotionally remote woman gives him shelter. Her husband was tortured and shot by the SS-trained Quislings. Birgitte Federspiel and Preben Lerdorff Rye make up the entire cast, with the exception of a minor walk-in role.

Johan Jacobson has directed the film with honesty and a skilled awareness of mounting tensions. The English captions are hardly necessary.

The Playground (Sun. thru. Tues.) Three-day preview. A comedy-satire on death, the film was inspired by the book, "My Brother, Death," by Cyrus Sulzberger. The screenplay is by George Garrett, writer-in-residence at Princeton University and produced by Richard Hilliard, a University alumnus.

As the film has never been shown to the general public.

 The movie camera you'll take on vacation this summer is Bauer's battery driven reflex, "Electric S," with its mirror behind the lens automatic loading, focusing lens and a zoom from 7½ to 36 mm. You can set it manually, if you want to, and of course, you don't have to rewind in the middle of a run because of those batteries. A pistol grip folds away out of sight. Mr. Bauer's price is $159.95, from the $189 list.

WATCH THAT REVERSE!
 The Shift Shifts. It's a shirt shift with shifts sifted over it. Yes, The Clothes Line has the finest line of shirts starting with a pale chino cotton, cut shirt style, and printed here and there with the near-shift pattern you often see in detail on the windows of foreign cars. Just watch yourself go into reverse.

All these designs have been silk-screened and the spare line drawings make the most delectable prints we've seen in a long time. Next to the near-shirt one, for example, is a pale pink with outline drawings of hippos in bright coral. (You will, of course, wither with a glance anyone who makes sassy remarks about hippos and hips.)

Another is pale yellow covered all over with chicken wire. Behind the wire, here and there, are — chickens, what did you expect? Another, a bit more sedate, has brown three-rail fences going around the white shirt in rhythmic stripes with brown cows frolicking behind the canal.

The pale blue has schools of green outline fish in various postures, and the beige has green Caribbean huzzage tags — Caribbean, did we say? Here's "Tahiti" and "Hawaii" — oh, well.

The Clothes Line is even happier about it's Sissy's shifts, and yes, that apostrophe is in the right place. Sissy makes them one of a kind, and you might prefer the muskrat with its six-inch mushrooms in olive and raspberry (cut for a tall and raspberry by the way), while your sister likes the white with its print of children's toys.

Spoorwomies may ask Sissy to appreciate golf flags, tennis jackets or dogs on a solid color.
 By the way, you don't have to be a size 10 to wear a Clothes Line shift. In size 16, there's a handsome olive-green print (or blue) of leaves against white, ready to be sashed in if you like.

Bathing suits at The Clothes Line are boy-leg or finely pleated skirt. Some of the best have been deliberately cut with the long-legged, long-waisted cut in mind, and how welcome they will be to swimmers where there are hard to get a sunburn.

although students at various universities have attended screenings, the reaction of Princeton audiences is eagerly awaited by Mr. Hilliard.

He says of his film, "In our times, the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse have been joined by a Fifth, His name is Anxiety. He is the most dangerous of all, for we waste ourselves with fear of the unknown. To his age-old fear of death, modern man has added his anxiety about life."

"The Playground" is a film about the paradox of mortality. It is a comedy in the true sense of the word, for it treats ordinary events in a light and satirical style. It has the qualities of life itself: laughter, chaos, sadness, triumph and beauty . . . It is entertainment with something to say."

"The Playground" is also actual fare.

THREE ARE ASSAULTED

In Separate Attacks, A woman who lives in Deer Path, a 20-year-old girl and a 14-year-old boy were assaulted last week in separate incidents.

Township Detective Fred Porter declined to identify the woman resident of Deer Path who was assaulted in her home at 11:30 last Tuesday evening.

The victim told police she had fallen asleep watching television in a downstairs room. She was awakened when the blanket on which she was resting was pulled up over her head. She said she struggled and kicked her assailant who fled out the front door when she screamed. He released her unharmed.

The woman, who was alone at the time, described her attacker as a man six feet tall, wearing a white T-shirt and blue-colored chino cotton pants. The case is still being investigated by Detective Porter.

The girl was identified by Borough Police as Ann L. Stone, 20, 21 Muran Avenue. She told police after leaving the Garden Theatre shortly after 11 Sunday evening, she passed a group of boys loitering in front of the bowling alley. One boy left the group and followed her, she continued, and when she reached the intersection of Tulane Street, he asked her to go for a ride.

When she refused, he grabbed her by the hair, pulling her into Tulane Street, where he punched her in the face three or four times. As she screamed, he released her and ran down Tulane Street, walking back toward Nassau when he saw a pedestrian assaulting again.

She described the boy as between 17 and 18, with long straight black hair and a thin face. He was about 5'7" and wore a black leather jacket which he also recognized her assailant again.

Patrolmen Arthur Jackson and Russell Shantzle, who investigated, reported finding visible bruises on the girl's face. Her nose and one eye

As he was standing in front of Skirm's Smoke Shop, he said that a gang of 10 to 12 Negro teenagers approached him, and one walked up to him and struck him in the face several times. After this, they all fled.

The youth was accompanied to police headquarters by his father. He told police that he did not believe he could identify any numbers of the gang.

$35,200 BID WINS

Borough Building Sold, Adlerman & Click, insured when they made a high bid of $22,500 last month for the Borough's Spring Street building, finally got the building anyway, but had to pay $35,200 to do so.

The Borough's third auction for the 63-by-35-foot structure was held Monday in Borough Hall, and bidding started, perforce, at $32,000, which was the rock-bottom minimum set by the Borough.

Lawrence E. Benson of Benson and Benson made the opening offer and the bidding sea-sawed back and forth between Mr. Benson and Adlerman & Click for a total of 20 bids. Harold Ostroff, owner of Renwick's, who had bid before, was present on Monday, but remained silent.

Finally, Mr. Benson bid $35,100 and when Adlerman & Click raised him to $35,200, he stopped and the auction was over.

Adlerman & Click is a real estate-insurance firm with offices at 9 Spring Street.

The Borough will use the

THE ONE IN 3?

Before age 65, one in three will be totally disabled by sickness or accident for periods exceeding 90 days. The average length of this disability will be 5 years.

But statistics tell only part of the story. A man's income is cut off. His family must make severe adjustments to meet the bills for food, shelter and clothing. Educational plans are postponed indefinitely.

You can have ideal protection against this hazard through Manufacturers Life's new Personal Income Protector Plan. If you are totally disabled it will give you a guaranteed monthly income. It's a flexible policy with a choice of short or long term income periods. The premium rate is guaranteed and your policy cannot be cancelled by Manufacturers Life. Act today. Contact the Manufacturers representative for the full story.

AT THE FEET OF ROYALTY: Traditional May-Day ceremonies at Miss Fine's School were attended by two pages from the kindergarten class, Barton Lund and Mary-Elizabeth Schreiber, who sat in solemn reverence at the feet of the May Queen, Sarah Jaeger, and her two attendants, Annika Borge (left) and Sally Tomlinson. It was the last time the ceremonies will be held at Miss Fine's next year, the girls will be on the Princeton Day Schools campus. (Staff Photo)

The meeting will be held Wednesday, May 26, at 8:15 at the Princeton Inn, preceded by a dinner at 7.

At the annual meeting, the following slate of officers will be presented: Mrs. Courland D. Perkins, president; Leighton H. Laughlin, vice-president; Mrs. Wells Dworkin, Jr., secretary and Anthony J. Marace, treasurer.

The following directors have been nominated for a three-year term ending 1968: Mesdames Douglas Delaney, Edward Earle, Darrell F. Johnson, A. P. Morgan, Jr., Courtland D. Perkins, Thomas H. St. Stanley, R. Tarr, John W. Tolley and the Rev. Albert D. Tyson and Leighton H. Laughlin.

For two years, Mrs. Mark J. Lund and the Rev. David P. Johnson have been the hosts of the Samuel W. Lambert III, Mrs. David H. McCall and Mrs. M. Starr Noyes.

TO DISCUSS REGIONS

For Borough, Township Schools, The League of Women Voters in Princeton will consider the proposals by Borough and Township school boards supporting regionalization at the May unit meetings. A number of one of the boards will be present at each meeting to answer questions and present their point of view. An open meeting of the Borough Board of Education will deal with the question of regionalization on Tuesday at 8.

The first unit meeting will be held Tuesday at 8:30 a. m. in the Princeton Methodist Church. On Wednesday, a meeting will take place at 8:15 in the Lakeside Apartments on Faculty Road, at the home of Mrs. Henry Broad of 41 Pardee Road at 10 a. m. and at 8:15 a. m. in the home of Mrs. Frederick Harbison of 114 Fitz-Randolph Road.

In West Windsor, the unit will discuss the preparation of the area's "Know Your Town" booklet. The meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Hugh Vaughan, 121 J. Cranbury, at 8:15 on Tuesday.

STUDENT HEADS NAMED
At Miss Fine's Sarah Jaeger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jaeger, Rocky Hill, will be president of the Student Council next year at Miss Fine's School and as such was crowned Queen of the May on Friday, attended by Sally Tomlinson, outgoing Student Council president, and Annika Borge.

Other school officials will be held by Marina Miller, Student Council secretary; Sally Lane, editor of the newspaper; Leslie Loefer, editor of the yearbook; Deborah Hubler, chairman of the Social Service Committee; Margery Cuyler, president of the Dramatic Club; Hope Rose, president of the Athletic Association; Hermine Delaney, president of the Glee Club; and Mary Biberbach, senior class president.

TWO WELDED IN THEFT
Charged in Trenton, George W. Marshall, 36, of 227 1/2 John Street, and Augustine Hyter, 36, 161 1/2 Leigh Avenue, have been charged with theft in the Department of Labor and Industry building in Trenton.

They are accused of having taken $75 from the cafeteria and with attempting to break into a cigarette vending machine. Marshall's case has already been heard, and he will be held for grand jury action. Hyter, who will be given a preliminary hearing, has also been charged with possession of a number slip.

ACQUITTAL RULED

For Johnson Case Detective Harry Purcell, head of the private detective firm which conducted a pre-dawn raid in February, 1965, to obtain evidence for J. Seward Johnson, was acquitted this week of assault and battery, but a member of his staff was found guilty.

The case was heard in Trenton, with Judge George H. Continued on Page 16

HOPE CHEST DIRECTORS: Assemblyman Edward J. Sweeney, chairman of the Multiple Sclerosis hope chest drive, discusses plans for the campaign with Miss Mary Perone, Mrs. Minot C. Morgan Jr. and Miss Katherine T. Norris. The appeal will begin Monday.

For Multiple Sclerosis Aid. The Central New Jersey Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society will begin its fund drive Monday under the direction of Assemblyman Edward J. Sweeney. Forty percent of the funds from the drive hope chest campaign will be sent to the national society for research and the balance will be used to care for area patients suffering from the disease. Workers for the drive can be identified by hope chest tags.

Assisting Mr. Sweeney will be Miss Mary Perone, Miss Katherine T. Norris, Mrs. Minot C. Morgan Jr., Mrs. S. J. Bell, Mrs. William Brooks, Philip Carroll, Mrs. Joseph Chapuk, Mrs. P. M. Corvino, Mrs. Wilson J. Coan, Mrs. Walter Cupples, Mrs. R. S. Davison, Mrs. Zaida Dillon, Mrs. F. D. Egan, Mrs. Anne E. Finch, Kate Foley, Mrs. William W. Golden, Mrs. Estelle Johnson, Mrs. Robert E. McCloskey, Mrs. William Morfo, Mrs. John C. Norman, Margaret Bezga, Ann Z. Reed, Mrs. Elmer Rodweller, Mrs. Paul Rappaport, Mrs. Robert Rosenfield, Mrs. C. Bursat Strong and Mrs. Spofford Woodruff.

TEA SCHEDULED

By Goucher Club. The Goucher Club of Princeton will hold its annual tea for prospective students Saturday at 2:30 in the home of Mrs. John P. McLanky of 89 Meadowbrook Drive.

The meeting will feature an illustrated talk on campus life. Dr. Rhoda M. Dorsey, professor of history at the college, will speak to the students. She will be introduced by Mrs. R. Stockton Gaines of 70-A Cleveland Lane, the club president.

GARDEN CLUE TO MEET
For Tour and Business. The annual meeting of the Dogwood Garden Club will include a tour on Thursday of the area surrounding Strawberry Barn in Saddle River.

Members will have the opportunity to inspect gardens and homes in the area of the barn where the meeting will be held. They will meet at the home of Mrs. Philip Shary of 32 Wheatbeaf Lane at 9 and depart by car for Saddle River.

TO SHOW FASHIONS

For Final Fifth Meeting. The Final Fifth of Princeton will hold a fashion show Wednesday at 6:30 in the Jewish Center.

The show, to be presented by Hay and Clover, will be the featured event at the desert meeting. Mrs. Harold Sanders and Mrs. Harold Barkan are the co-chairmen of the meeting.

MEETING SCHEDULED

By Waldensten Society. The Princeton branch of the Waldensten Aid Society will hold its annual meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Groom of 46 S. Y. Lane, Town Topics, the best way to express your appreciation is to mention it to our advertisers.

Princeton Avenue at 3 on Wednesday.

Dr. P. J. Zaccara, president of the society in America, will speak on the Waldensten Church. Dr. Zaccara's talk will be preceded by a business meeting and followed by a tea.

LIONS TO CELEBRATE

With Dinner and Dance. The Lions Club Auxiliary will hold a dinner-dance Saturday at the Forsgate Country Club in Jamesburg to celebrate its 15th anniversary. Dinner will be served at 8 and the dance will begin an hour later to the music of Paul Rossi. Mrs. Jeanne Kalen and Mrs. Mildred Lehnert are in charge of the affair and Mrs. Gertrude Fraser will be the guest speaker.

INTERVENTION IN DOMINICAN REPUBLIC BACKED: Both Donald Weston (left) and George Vigorelli approve of Marine intervention in the Dominican Republic. Both felt the Communists had a hand in the revolt. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: Do you agree with our Marine intervention in the Dominican Republic?

Where asked: Palmer Square.

Donald Weston, Howell, painter for Princeton University: I do think we were right, in a way I believe the Communists have a lot to do with the trouble there — the same as in Cuba. We had to put our foot down some place before they overthrew all those South American countries. We should have done the same thing in Cuba before that situation got out of hand.

George Vigorelli, Rocky Hill, painter for Princeton University: Conmunist intervention is what we're all worried about. That being the case, we had to go in and use force. I would rather have seen us give them food and get the Dominican people back on their feet, but I'm afraid where the Communists are involved you have to use force. I think our biggest problem of all is that we let the explosion get away from us. All these revolts stem from one thing — people don't have enough food to eat.

Wolfgang Zernik, Lawrence Township, physicist, RCA: Yes, I suppose so... rather un-enthusiastically, though. The question of the assumed Communist leadership of the rebellion is something that has not really been proved; it has to be taken more or less on faith. It's a shame we didn't intervene three years ago when Bosch was overthrown; we would have had a much better moral issue at the time; we would have been intervening against a military dictatorship.
Unfortunately, the situation now is that no matter what happens, most people are going to hate us, and even though we may must the Communists out in the short run, in the long run I believe their strength will be greater than ever.
We're going to have trouble there for a long time to come.

Arthur Randall, Witherspoon Hall, University junior: Well, I agree we cannot afford to have in the area near Cuba another government that might be hostile to our own, but I'm not really sure this is the way to stop it. In fact, it might backfire and we'll end up having more enemies because of this type of intervention.

Mrs. James Crimmins, 55 Harrison Street, housewife: Yes, if it will prevent a Castro or Chinese-Communist-type government from taking over.

Nate Morton, Buckingham, Pa., general service manager, Gallop & Robinson: I think I'd be in favor of it, if it were supported by the backing of the Organization of American States. I think it appears to be at this point, I think it is so easy for our leaders to use the fear of "those Communists down there." It's so easy to explain all our ills in terms of Communism, that you may fool yourself into becoming an approver by seeing communists where there aren't any. I believe there are times when military intervention is needed... but not every time you turn around!

Miss Jill Kearne, Bayard Road, secretary: The Americans just seem to be putting their foot down for a change.
The Communists keep sneaking in the back door and we're come slaming at them through the front door. Yes, I approve.

Bradley Sheeks, Graduate School, pastor: Yes, I do. It had to be done. It was our move; otherwise it would have been another Cuba.

Mrs. Peter Delicopio, Trenton, housewife: I do and I think I can't see any more of our boys being killed but I guess it's one of those things; you have to do. I think we have do think the Americans have done this before quite like this and it will be difficult to judge what the outcome will be.

George Rawick, student at Princeton Theological Seminary: Yes, I do. We have a long history of intervention in Latin America and then we stopped this with Roosevelt's "Good Neighbor Policy," which was wise because our previous policy wasn't effective. Now there is a new factor in the situation. Namely, the question of the Communist governments to influence this area. Therefore, when it is clear in any given situation that the Communists are involved to a significant degree, we have to (take a stand. I think if we did not, we would be inconsistent with our present foreign policy stance, particularly as manifested in Viet Nam.

Mrs. Basil Medvedsky, 18 Vandewater Street, insurance agent: I agree, I definitely feel that the Communists are using these people down there.
I approve of sending the Marines because this might help keep Communism from spreading to some other Latin American country. I think we have to take a firm stand.

Lloyd W. Ginzau, Nassau Inn, retired army colonel: Absolutely. I think of this as some Communist affair. I think Castro might get in there if we don't. President Johnson did exactly what President Kenedy would have.

John Sullivan, New Haven, Conn., labor relations consultant: Yes, I do. Personally, I believe Castro is trying to roll out his plan to infiltrate our country.

to somehow make it clear to these people that we are doing this for them but I don't know if it is possible. I feel the Communists have something to do with this, although they are claiming loudly they don't — but they're in there somewhere.

James Dorech, Dayton, O., member of the clergy: Well, yes and no. I can't be answered by a simple yes or no. In fact as verified by the administration are accurate, then this action is justified. But I think has yet to be proven to me. I think, potentially, we're playing with fire.

Lloyd W. Ginzau, Nassau Inn,
retired army colonel: Absolutely. I think of this as some
edy would have.

Carl Brewer, 79 Parkside Drive, conservatism: Yes, I do agree with it, but I would say we should continue to make every effort to work through the Organization of American States. It was a good move because I'm afraid the situation could have gotten easily out of hand; it's possible we could have had another Castro situation. This unhappy state of affairs, of course, is a legacy of the Trujillo regime, to which the United States should have opposed a long time ago.

John Sullivan, New Haven,
sultant: Yes, I do. Personally,
trate our country.

MUSIC

In Princeton

MUSIC IN THE PARK
Theatre. A new music-theatre venture will be launched this summer in Washington Crossing State Park—on the New Jersey side.
Starting Friday, May 21, at 8:30 with a concert by the Princeton High School Choir, the Washington Crossing Association will present, once each week throughout the summer, a play or concert by some group in the Washington Crossing area.

Performances will be given in the new open air theatre in a natural wooded dell, reached by the north-east park entrance of Route 546, the Washington Crossing-Pennington Road.
Following the Princeton School Choir will be the Lopewell Township high school band and chorus on Friday, May 28 and the Allegra String Quartet on Friday, June 4.

In subsequent weeks, the Yardley Players will give "Under the Yum Yum Tree," the Princeton Opera Association will offer two one-act operas, including Menotti's "The Old Maid and the Thief," and the Fellowship Singers of the Delaware Valley will present a program of songs.

Members of the Pennington Players will give "Piano and Piano" and the Langhorne Players "Life with Father." Two additional appearances will be made by the Allegra String Quartet, and the series will conclude with Bill How-combe and his company in a "Holiday of Song."

Tickets will be $1.50 each, but booklets of four are on sale for $5. They may be purchased from the Washington Crossing Association, Box 1776, Washington, N. J., or reserved by calling 727-2221 or at 883-4120.

Amateurs to Sing. Thomas Hilbish will conduct and Barbara Hilbish will be the contralto soloist when the Musical Amateurs meet Sunday at 5 in the gymnasium at Miss Fin-ley's, singing the Beethoven Mass in C minor.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilbish, who will leave Princeton next monday for Ann Arbor, Michigan, will be making their final appearance with the Amateurs in the Beethoven work. Mr. Hilbish, director of the Princeton High School choir, will be associate professor of music at the University of Michigan.

Other soloists on Sunday will be Theima Young, soprano; Paul Cook, tenor and Donald Langmuir, bass. Singers who wish to attend should make reservations with Mrs. Melvin Gottlieb, 921-7214, before Friday.

TO CONCLUDE PROGRAM With Organ Recitals. Princeton Theological Seminary will conclude its Thursday afternoon recital program with performances on organ by Peter Brown this week and Michael Korn the next. The church series all performances for next year will be announced late this summer.

Mr. Korn and Mr. Brown are advised students at Westminster Choir College. Both have given previous recitals in the seminary's church, which was began in February. Recitals are held from 1:35 to 2:05 in the Hilbish Chapel on campus at 8.

PROFESSOR TO PERFORM In Westminster Recital, John L. Baldwin Jr., an assistant professor on leave from Hamilton College, will give an organ recital in the chapel of Westminster Choir College Tuesday at 8.

Spring Concert Scheduled

Choral groups of Princeton High School, including the Princeton High School Choir, will present their Spring Concert Wednesday, May 19, at 8:15 in the high school auditorium. Thomas Hilbish and Hedley Tost will conduct.

Included in the program will be the Schubert Mass in G, the Bach Motet Number 7, "Jesu, Meine Flute," and selections from two Bach cantatas sung by the freshmen girls, and portions of "Flora and Fauna" by Mark Ruehl, to poems by William Blake.

The performance will be the last in the season's series of guest recitals. Mr. Baldwin, an organist at the American Pro-Cathedral in New York City this summer, is an associate of the American Guild of Organists.

Mr. Baldwin is also known as a choral conductor and has been guest conductor of several symphony orchestras.
His recital will be open to the public free of charge.

RECI-TAL SCHEDULED

Pianist in Varied Program.
Catherine Bane Lewis will give a piano recital Sunday at 8 at the New School for Music Study, performing works by Mazurk, Mozart, Brahms and Ravel.

A supervisor in the New School's piano pedagogy course, Mrs. Lewis is a pupil of David Krawtzenbach, music director of the school. The public is invited to attend her recital.

STUDENTS FEATURED

In Piano Teaching School.
Nine area children, students at the New School for Music Study, were featured participating in a demonstration of piano teaching techniques for members of the National Catholic Music Educators Association convention in Philadelphia.

The participants were James Detweiler, Lawrence Dixon, Diane Edelman, Greerian Mary Goetz, Eugene Holland, Linda McCauley, Carol Ann Rooks, Barbara Schenkmyer and Neal Solomon. The purpose of the demonstration was to acquaint members of the association with teaching procedures being developed at the New School.

rate these countries? I believe he is behind this. And I wish we would go into Cuba and rush him the . . . out of there!

Mrs. A.C. Bigelow, Elm Road, housewife: Yes, I think we had to protect our own people there. As I understand it, they asked us to come in there for that reason. But I really hope we don't have to go any further than that.

Elmer Leigh, The Great Road, retired carpenter: I do.
I feel we have to stop Communism some day. We should have stopped them in Cuba, in the first place. If we had we wouldn't be having this problem in the Dominican Republic. Those Communists! Once they get their foot in the door — and they get away with it — they keep right on going! It concerns those men.

BUSINESS In Princeton

WEST WINDSOR GAINS
Lawrence, Ewing Len.
DynaFlex Corporation, with two locations, one on Lawrence

Read and the other in Ewing Township, will move next fall into West Windsor Township.

The firm plans to build an 580,000 building on Alexander Road off Route One on land purchased from Stuart Reed of the Reed Sod Farm. DynaFlex will use most of its new, 11,000-square-foot building for research and development in the field of electronic aerospace telemetry and data processing equipment. Only a small part of the space will be devoted to production.

West Windsor's zoning board has granted the firm a variance so that the building can be erected only 150 feet from the road instead of the required 185 feet. DynaFlex representatives said the company might need the extra footage for expansion.

Founded in 1962, DynaFlex employs 70 people, and may expand its payroll when the new building has been finished, according to Dudley E. Woodbridge, vice-president of the firm. About 98 percent of DynaFlex contracts are in aerospace and defense work.

VACANCY FILLED

On Chamber Directors Board, Melvin C. Firman has been appointed to a vacancy on the board of directors of the Greater Princeton Chamber of Commerce and Civic Council.

He replaces Romeo R. Fay-rean of Electronics Associates who resigned for business reasons. Mr. Firman is employed by American Cyanamid Company.

Chairman of the chamber's committee, Mr. Firman is assistant to the manager of research and development at American Cyanamid's agricultural division in West Windsor Township on Route 1.

CONTRACT AWARDED

To General Devices Incorporated.
General Devices of Princeton has received an $11, 314 government contract for the manufacture of 167 switch retor assemblies.

The assemblies, which will be made at the Monmouth Junction plant, have been ordered by the defense supply agency of Dayton, Ohio. The contract was negotiated at a firm fixed price. The Dayton electronics center supplies common parts of electrical and electronic equipment to the armed services.

KNOX FIRM HIRED

To Study School for Retarded. The Frank M. Knox Corporation, International of Princeton has been appointed by the Rhode Island Department of Social Welfare to study the needs of the state's school for the mentally retarded.

William V. Parker, the president of Knox, said that the evaluation would be supervised by Harry S. Coby, the executive vice-president. The review will be conducted by a staff consultant assisted by a physician, a psychologist and educator familiar with the procedures of institutions for the retarded.

By MADISON AVENUE measurments (cost per line for the advertiser), it costs you far less to advertise in this space than in any other Princeton paper. Exclude now approaching 17,000.

PEOPLE In The News

BUCK TIGHE RETIRES (Office. Hopes are fairly high Plans. "A Little Politics," at the moment, Mr. Tighe indicates.)

When Arthur J. (Buck) Tighe of 660 Prospect Avenue extended his retirement last week after 48 years with Public Service, he began talking politics again with a gleam in his blue eyes.

A veteran of Princeton political campaigns, he's been on the quiet side lately.

"I'm a full-fledged Democrat," he said the other day at his home. "I'd like to see a little action again." A tall man, he's hale and hearty, and well. Hohenburg, Knutson, Hacky Hill, Monmouth Junction, Deans, Princeton Junction and Cranbury as well as in Princeton.

"Bill Larken would do the outlying areas and I would do the towns. It wasn't long before I figured that his motorcar. "So we started the cycle could tow my bike. It didn't seem dangerous at the Joe Hoff of First National was in control of the party then day."

We put in a Hoff man as president — you know how it is, and I was made the first treasurer.

"We ran Mike Morgan for mayor, Joe Redding and Mike Kaplan for council, and we put all three of them in. You know, Mike Morgan is a capable smart guy. . . . We ran the campaign first from my house and then we set up headquarters on Nassau Street where wasn't one electric meter on the Wine & Game Shop is now.

The only Democratic map, son, and Howard Waywood had we've had since then is Ray the Male, who served two terms."

Almost Postmaster. Some years ago Mr. Tighe was off-ered the Princeton postmaster-ship. "I thought it over and finally turned it down. It went to Charles Murray."

He was working with other Princetonians since last fall to get a full-time appointment for acting postmaster John Dilworth. Letters have gone in the governor and congressmen, Howard Fallon of West Orange (who was a very pretty member of the Princeton Post-Office), who then worked in the company's Newark office. Their daughters are Mrs. Col-iver Smith of Wichita, Kan., with his wife ("We did Ireland side of a number of the 1951 Princeton University football team, and Mrs. Ernest B. Walden of 161 N. Harrison Street, an honors graduate of Sweet Briar College now teaching in Kendall Park. And there are six grandchildren.

Princeton means a great deal to Mr. Tighe. Born at 18 John Street ("that was Irish Town in those days"), he went to St. Paul's School, served as an altar boy. Played baseball and basketball, smoked corn silk and, on a summer's day, never missed a swim in the canal by the railroad trestle.

The Princeton University Press has named Prof. William W. Lockwood of 74 Jefferson Road as chairman of the editorial board. Professor Lockwood is a professor of politics and international affairs at Princeton.

Dr. Martin Duberman of 63 College Road West has edited a book on the abolitionists of the Civil War period. The book was recently published by the Princeton University Press and is entitled "Anti-Slavery Vanguard: New Essays on the Abolitionists." Dr. Duberman is on the faculty of Princeton University as a member of the history department.

Earl Kim of 302 Hartley Avenue has been chosen by the National Institute of Arts and Letters to receive an award of $2,500 for his musical compositions. Mr. Kim is an associate professor of music at Princeton and has composed "Letters Found Near a Suicide" and "Dialogues for Piano and Orchestra."

The ninth volume of a series on humanistic scholarship has been published by Prentice-Hall. Entitled "Religion," it is edited by Dr. Paul Ramsey of 111 Fitz-Randolph Road. The volume includes selections by Prof. Philip H. Ashby of 78 Lake Drive and Prof. J. M. Nichols of 350 Herndon Road.

Dr. James M. McPherson of 2 Dickinson Place, a history instructor at Princeton, has been awarded an Audubon-Wolf Award in race relations for his book "The Struggle for Equality: Abolitionists and the Negro in the Civil War and Reconstruction." The award includes a stipend of $750.

Alan Abelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Abelson of 422 Nassau Street, was the featured soloist at the Rochester Religious Music Festival held Sunday at the Central Presbyterian Church. Mr. Abelson is a sophomore at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester and is majoring in voice.

An educational exchange grant awarded under the Fulbright-Hays Act has been presented to Dr. John A. Bernstein of 745 Sergeant Street. Dr. Bernstein, an instructor in English at Princeton, will lecture in American literature at the University of Bergen in Norway.

Cynthia Bull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benton A. Bull of 61 Cleveland Lane, has been selected to serve as a student advisor at Middlebury College during the next academic year. Miss Bull, a sophomore, will advise incoming freshmen.

Two Princeton area residents were guests of their daughters at the 15th annual fathers weekend at Wells College, Aurora, N.Y. They are Eli S. Firsh of 11 Piedmont Drive, Cranbury, whose daughter is a sophomore at Wells College, and Carl F. High School won five prizes in the Spanish Contest held this year for students in New Jersey and Pennsylvania at Temple University, Philadelphia.

The winners are Jo-Aan Kolmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Kolmes, 564 Mercer Road, second prize, fourth year special class; George Mikstak, son of Dr. and Mrs. Marion Mikstak, Skillman, first prize in the third year department of aerospace and mechanical sciences; Frederick J. Almaraz of 76 Einstein Drive and Paul F. Baum of 131 Murray Place, both of the Institute for Advanced Study, named to the department of mathematics; and George Tikkanen of North Tulane Street, a member of Princeton's research staff, named to the department of physics.

SPORTS In Princeton

TITLE GAME SATURDAY
In Lacrosse with Dartmouth. As they have so many times in football, Dartmouth and Princeton will meet Saturday to decide an Ivy championship. This time, the game is lacrosse: the setting is Campbell Field; the time, 2:30.

Favored to defeat Brown in a mid-week contest at Hanover, the Indians are expected to come here with a 5-9 mark in league play. Princeton is 4-0 and has a game at Ithaca against Cornell on Saturday May 22, its final Ivy contest.

The Indians were co-champions last year with Princeton and Harvard, all three finishing with 4-2 marks for the first time since the league became formal in 1956. Off its play to date, Dartmouth ranks 3d in the conference, simply on a basis of comparative scores. The Green has handled Harvard and Yale a bit more easily than did Princeton, although the Tigers were more impressive in defeating their other common foe, Pennsylvania.

The Quakers were a 12-4 victim of the Tigers last week. Bob Mueller giving a stout performance as he accounted for half the victors' goals. Penn opened strong, taking a brief 2-0 lead, but it was 8-3, Princeton, at the half and no contest thereafter.

Elli was Stubbins. In the apparent belief that an impressive setting might put added pressure on Princeton, Yale moved Saturday's lacrosse game into the Bowl. It was a close GARLANDS FOR THE NEWCOMERS: Carmen Cozza (seated, left), Yale's new football coach, and Bob Odell, John Stettin's successor at Penn, were given floral tributes as the newest members of the Ivy League when the eight coaches met here for their annual spring conference. What they'll get from the other six next fall is a different matter. Grouped around them are John McLoughry, Brown; Tom Harp, Cornell; Bob Blackman, Dartmouth; Dick Colman, Princeton; Buff Donelli, Columbia; and assistant coach Jim Fells of Harvard, representing John Yovisich, who is recovering from an operation.

The affair for three periods: a 3-3 run in the first inning and then deadlock existed at half time; it was 6-0 going into the final quarter and a half-dozen ties marked the action-packed contest.

Both teams scored again to make it 7-7, but Princeton then took charge. The Tigers raised their margin to 10-7 with three straight goals and in the closing minutes, an adequate if somewhat frantic defense saw the gap narrowed only to a 10-6 final.

run in the first inning and then added eight shutout rounds. Scott's whitewash job was his second in a row and both have sparkling earned run averages.

There was a considerable imbalance between Princeton and Yale in hitting Saturday: the Tigers made five hits and scored five times, the Elis made 11 hits and one run. "The Yale bats sounded like tiffles," Coach Eddie Donovan remarked, "as

PLENTY OF BASEBALL
Six Games in Ten Days. By late afternoon on Saturday May 22, Princeton's baseball team will know whether it is a Cinderella nine for fair or whether it will be just another pumpkin.

The Tigers began the week with a 14-4 record, their best at this point in the season in a dozen years. They were 5-2 in the Eastern League and if they somehow managed to defeat Dartmouth (this Wednesday) and Cornell (on May 22) in games away from home, their chances of earning at least a share of the title would be excellent.

While that in itself may well be more than they can accomplish, a shot at an NCAA playoff berth is even more unlikely. On a won-lost basis, however, the Tigers are within range, and if they should win a trio of their upcoming non-league games in the next week, their chance would be completely realistic.

The big one is set for Friday against leader on the list's Lawrence Township diamond. Rider won its 14th in a row Saturday, has extreme pitching depth and balanced hitting.

Matthias will come on Monday for a contest originally set for May 3. It will be Rutgers here next Wednesday, and the Scarlet, too, is tough. Princeton's two-man pitching staff of Graham Marcott and Tom Scott will need numerous route-going performances to last out this intensive action.

Penn. Yale Beaten. One run was all that Penn and Yale could score against the combined efforts of Scott and Marcott last week. Scott blanked the Quakers here by the same 3-0 count he recorded against them in 1964; at New Haven on Saturday, Marcott yielded a much so that I thought maybe they had stolen our sign. As I turned out, they didn't, but they had a couple of men on base almost constantly."

Yale pitchers were their own worst enemies. Both Eli errors were charged to hurlers and two of the five Princeton runs scored on wild pitches.

A four-run third, all the scoring coming after two were out, wrapped up the decision for the Tigers. Shortstop Ron Landfield led Princeton at the plate with two hits and two R.I.'s, both of the latter coming in the bottoming.

Other Sports, Princeton's tennis team will play Cornell at 2:30 Saturday on the University Courts. Having topped Yale, 6-3, the Tigers can finish second in Eastern Association play. The track team will enter the Heptagonal Games at New Haven this weekend. Penn was a 107 to 47 victim in Palmer Stadium Saturday as Ernie Pascarella again broke the University record for the hammer throw with a heave of 177 feet, 5 1/2 inches.

The Eastern Sprint Championships at Worcester will occupy the crew. With the Tigers expected to make it into the six-boat final, Harvard is an almost certain victor, with Cornell the ton challenger and Penn, usually a threat over short distances such as 2,000 meters, a possible finisher ahead of Princeton.

Cornell won the Carnegie Cup at Derby Conn. last week-end, leading Yale across the finish of the two-mile race by almost three lengths and Princeton by better than four. The Ithacans also took the Jayvee and freshman races.

STAFF AGAIN INACT
As Harris Successor Harris Ask most any member of the Princeton football coaching staff whether he is sorry there was no spring practice, and you'd get a strong reply in the affirmative.

But if you put the same question to Warren Harris, he would in all probability answer, in effect, "I sure am glad there wasn't any this year!"

Last January, Harris resigned his position as defensive coach to take the head job at the University of New Hampshire. If Princeton had staged the 20 days of spring practice allocated to all colleges which do not follow a self-imposed ban, it would have been virtually essential to find a replacement for him by mid-March. His successor would have much to do in familiarizing himself with current Princeton personnel and the Tigers' coaching strategy.

But as the man said, it's an ill wind that blows nobody good, and when Harris unexpectedly resigned in late April from New Hampshire, it was still three months before even the late summer paper work in planning the 1965 season would begin. No replacement for him had been signed, although several were under consideration.

So, the man who played a major part in Princeton's fine defensive record last fall (less than a touchdown per game) encouraged by the Tigers' nine opponents' quickly threw his weight in the ring. On Friday, they picked it up and told him he should "plan to wear it again" around here.

Dick Coleman said he was delighted to add "Warren knows about our personnel and our football operation from top to bottom and his contributions to our success the past two years are well known to all."

In what looms as a particularly close Ivy race, with no team likely to grow head and shoulders above the others, Harris' return to solidify the Princeton coaching staff is strictly a bonanza.

PHIS ON THE ROAD

After 4-0 Loss to B.M.I. That Man! Everytime the Princeton High baseball team is on the verge of pulling its game together, the weatherman throws it all off stride. For the sixth time this season, rain sidelined the Little Tigers when Friday's contest with Asbury Park was washed out.

This most recent postponement was a permanent one. The game was not rescheduled because the Little Tigers, playing three games a week, have no open dates left.

Weather permitting, the Blue and White will try to improve its 1-7 record this week on the road Thursday will find PHIS at Cathedral Park in Trenton for a make-up game with Cathedral. The contest was originally set for April 2 and was to have been his season's opener. Game time is 4 p.m.

Monday Coach Harry Zolt's squad will be at Franklin, and Tuesday, at Notre Dame. Both contests will start at 4 p.m.

Last Wednesday, the Little Tigers sustained their fourth shutout in eight games when B.M.I. stopped them behind a four-pitch hiting of Tim Maack. The defeat notwithstanding, the Tigers were encouraged by the Little Tiger performance.

"I told the boys if it was the only game they deserved to lose all season," said Zolt. "They played a good, tight ball game. You don't mind losing when you know you've played well and were beaten by a better team."

B.M.I. has a good team. Their infield knocked down a couple of shots that would have gone for hits against a lot of other teams."

The visitors scored one run in the first, and PHIS had a promising opportunity to make it when Ken Ward tripled with

WISCONSIN TO STEINERT

Wood One-Hits Hun. The Princeton High School baseball team squandered a chance to win two in a row for the first time this season Tuesday when it committed six errors and allowed five unearned Steinert runs. The home team Spartans won their sixth in 10 starts.

7 to 5.

PHS coach Zolt was up and beat the ragged play that he ordered an intra-squad contest the following day. Zolt threatened to start the entire scrub squad in the team's next outing, should it defeat the varsity.

The Little Tigers scored a pair of runs in the third on a collection of errors, a wild pitch, a stolen base and Curt Schaefer's single. In the fifth, they combined an error, a hit batsman, Schaefer's second hit, a walk and a single by Paul Barrett for three runs. Schaefer and Barrett accounted for four of Princeton's six hits.

Howard Riklin (0-2), who pitched the first three innings, took the loss. Chris Fischer pitched a third of an inning. Joe Harding finished. The defeat was the lowest eighth against two wins.

Wood Stars on Mound. Hills were scarier than ben's teeth, in the first meeting over Monday between PHS and neighboring Hun School. In all, there were only three as sophomores

Tommy Wood, son of football coach Dick Wood, limited the visitors to a first-inning scoring and one run. PHN won 3-1.

The Little Tigers took only two hits off Hun pitcher Chris Weslover, but they bunched hits in the third when they scored all of their runs. Wood got on via an error. Bill Mc-Quade singled. Ken Ward also got by another Hun boot and Chris Schaefer walked in one run. Paul Walstad then doubled home two more.

Hun scored its lone rally in the first on a hit batsman, wild pitch and centerfielder Lewis Kaplan's single. Coach John

Talbot's slumping Johnny Huns have now lost three of their last four to dip to 3-4.

Wood pitched six innings.

Fischer worked the last frame and set Hun down in order.

NOTTALL STARTS

All Three RCA Teams Win.

Victories in the Business Softball League were recorded last week by all three teams representing RCA in the expanded action scheduled for this season.

RCA One had little trouble trouncing American Cyanamid

10 to 2, and RCA 2 defeated

Hopewell TV, 10 to 6, without any difficulty. However,

RCA Astro was outlived by Columbian Carlson, 17 to 13, but managed a one-run win in the scoring to win, 9 to 8.

Jim Clark and John Meyer delivered home runs for RCA

One, Clark beginning the season by hitting for a circuit with a single, double, triple and homer in four times at bat. Bob Nelson was the winning pitcher. For the losing pitcher, Bob Meyer, who Mes-splate was two for three at the plate and infielders Don Kelly and Clark Lesnon played well on defense.

RCA 2 used Tom Ward as its winning pitcher. Butch Bosjail leading the attack with three hits and two RBIs. Joe Castro was charged with the hopewell TV defeat.

Len Matysak gave up the hits to Columbian Carlson but RCA Astro prevailed.

largely on the strength of a first-inning homer and a five-run second. For the losers, a down hit was divided evenly among Al Tenneyson, John flarrison, Jack Weaver and Al

Boys between 9 and 12 are invited to try out this weekend for membership on teams sponsored by the Police Youth League.

Tryouts will be held Saturday and Sunday from 9 to 12 noon at Marquand

Park. Membership applications are available at police headquarters in either Burrough or Township Hall.

Harlow Leads Tiger Five

Bob Harlow, second of three basketball-playing brothers at Princeton, has been named to captain the 1962-63 team. He succeeds

Bill Bradley.

His brother Bill was a member of two Ivy championship teams before graduating in 1963 and his 6-6 brother John was the second highest scorer on last winter's freshmen. His oldest

A. William Harlow, is supervisor of basketball officials for the Big Ten.

Bob captured his freshman team here and during last two seasons was second high scorer on the varsity. Coach Bill van Breda Kolff calls him "a steady player who always gives you a sound game."

Golembeski.

ERIC WIS Bluffest. Twenty hills powered Engineering search Center to a 15-11 victory over ETS, Paul Crea picking up the slack for departed John Dilavich. A triple by Ross Murphey in the top of the fifth scored two runs and up the game in the first extra inning. Bill DeBascap capped a three-for-four day with a seventh-inning homer to create the decisive 15-11.

McGraw - Hill Warehouse coasted to a 13-4 shutout over Opinion Research, but the office staff at McGraw-Hill had less luck, losing 6-1 to Acceerator. For the Warehouse entry, Phil Keiser was the victor on a three-hit, three-run support from Sket Moore and Pete Fields, each with three hits, and two RBI's. For the hills, Fred Schwarz, both with two runs.

For Accelerator, Jack Barton outplayed Phil Burhardt, scattering eight hits while the victors were connecting for 13.

Don Glavac contributed double and a triple. Carl Sch-uler, a single and a homer, while Dick Gerwin also had two hits.

In games next week, OHC will face Hopewell TV in Hopewell; McGraw-Hill Warehouse plays ETS at McGraw-

Hill; RCA Two faces RCA in Pittsford; Field: RCA One plays home to Accelerator. Cy-anadium entertains RCA Astro; and Columbian Carlson travels to McGraw-Hill.

In Midset. League. In ac-tional last week in the National League of the YMAA, Midset

League, the Braves and Giants ended tied for first place with 12 points each.

The Giants tied the Braves,

3-2, and shutout the Cardinals,

2-0. The Braves, meanwhile, were walloping the Red Legs, 12-3. In other games, the Phillies trounced the Dodgers, 12-1, and the Cardinals did the same to the winners Red Legs, 14-3.

The Tigers won a pair in the American League to capture first place, defeating the Red Sox, 4-2, and blanking the Yankees, 5-0. The Athletics advanced to second place on the strength of the leaders by tying the Orioles, 3-3, and defeating the Indians, 14-7.

In other games, the Orioles won their second game, defeating the Senators, 14-6, while

MEMOS FROM YOUR Stylist

By Archimedes (Bernard) As more than a few women may have noticed, hair characteristics are by no means stable. Younger women who have hair problems in their teens, sometimes find in maturity that their hair is more manageable and responds more quickly to proper care. Then again, women who for years enjoyed the blessing of easy-

Pleasant Christian women relations; Mrs. Russell Clinchy and Miss Katherine Lenroot of Trinity Episcopal Church, summer camp project.

Mrs. Guy Woodward of Princeton Methodist Church and Mrs. Hugh Liffiton of St.
Andrew's Presbyterian Church served on the nominating committee.

At Trinity Church. The Rev.
Dr. John Heuss, rector of New York City's Trinity Parish, one of the largest Episcopal parishes in the world, will preach at 11 this Sunday in Trinity Church, Mercer Street.
Trinity Parish consists of Broodway Trinity Church on Broadway at the head of Wall Street and six chapels located in a variety of neighborhoods.

The Rev. Dr. Robert R.
Church Jr., rector of Trinity Church, Princeton, served as vicar of one of the chapels previously to coming to Princeton.
Under Dr. Heuss's rectorship, the parish has become increasingly an urban missionary society attempting to meet the changing needs of the neighborhoods in which the chapels are located.
Dr. Heuss was formerly director of the department of Christian Education of the Na-

NEW PRESIDENT: Mrs. Albert D. Tyson Jr. (right) wife of the pastor of Mt. Pleasant A.M.E. Church, was elected head of the United Church Women of Princeton, succeeding Mrs.
T. Roba Webb (right), at Friday's May Fellowship Day Lun-

National Council of the Episcopal Church.

PALESTINE IS TOPIC
Of Talk By Dr. Tucker. The Rev. Dr. William L. Tucker, who led a party on a tour of Palestine last October, will give an illustrated lecture on the trip at the Family Night supper on Sunday at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Nassau Street. The community is invited.

Pastor of the former Second Presbyterian Church from 1940 to 1956, Dr. Tucker has held pastorates in Kobe, Japan, and in Thailand. He is serving at present as minister of visitation at the Bound Brook Presbyterian Church.

The covered dish supper begins promptly at 6 p.m., followed by the lecture at 6:35. A program, including a film is planned for children through sixth grade by the Senior High Fellowship. Nursery care will also be provided.

Those attending should make reservation at the church 924-2174, before 5 p.m. on Friday.
Everyone is asked to bring either a casserole, salad or desert sufficient for himself and six others. Beverages and rolls will be provided. A 25c charge will be made for each person, with a $1 maximum per family.

DR. WEST NAMED
To Cowell Chair. President James I. McCord of Princeton Seminary has announced the appointment of the Rev. Dr.
Charles C. West as Sturges Cowell Professor of Applied Christianity. The Cowell chair, dating from 1971, is believed to be the oldest chair of applied Christianity in American theological education.
Dr. West, professor of Christian ethics at the Seminary since 1961, is an authority on Christianity and communism.
He was for five years associate director of the Ecumenical Institute of the World Council of Churches, Switzerland, and served from 1947 to 1950 as a missionary in Hong Kong. He spent three years in Germany as an industrial missionary and representative of the World Council of Churches.

TO HEAR HOUSING HEAD
At Seminary Session. Robert C. Weaver, head of the U.S.
Housing and Home Finance Agency, will deliver the closing address this Friday at Princeton Seminary's consultation on "Theology and the Urban Crisis."
Participants in the all-day consultation are city clergymen and theologians. According to Dean Arthur M. Adams, director of the office of field education, a limited number of seats will be available to the general public at Friday's diner session, scheduled for 6:45 p.m.

"THE LAST CHAPTER" Hightstown Preview Set. A documentary film depicting 1,000 years of Jewish life in Poland, ending with the Warsaw Ghetto uprising will be presented at 7 and 9 p.m. Wednesday, May 19, at the Hight-stown Theatre. Theodore Bikel is narrator.

Ten years in the making,
"The Chapter" started out as a report on the destruction of Polish Jewry. It developed, however, into an epic history of the sages and heroes of Poland's Jewry, their contribution to mankind's spiritual and cultural heritage.

Admission to the preview is $1.50 for adults; $1 for students and children.

BULLETIN NOTES

10th Anniversary. The Rev.
Richard K. Toner, a member of the clergy of Trinity Parish and associate professor of chemical engineering at Princeton University, marked the 10th anniversary of his ordination last weekend. He also serves as chaplain at the Peddie School.

Inner City. Mrs. Mary Watson, a volunteer worker in a New York City parish, will speak at 8 p.m. on Tuesday before the Women's Service League of the Lutheran Church of the Messiah.

Women's Day. Mrs. Rebekah J. Calloway, president of the National Trade and Professional School, Washington, D. C. will speak at the 11 a.m. Women's Day service this Sunday at First Baptist Church. Mrs.
Calloway is editor-in-charge of "The Worker," a missionary and educational quarterly.

Radio Services. During the month of May, the 11 a.m. Sunday service at Princeton University Methodist Church will be broadcast over WHYY.

"Hooky Holiday." The family night supper at Hopewell Calvary Baptist Church this Friday will be followed by a playlet, "Hooky Holiday," performed by the Junior High Fellowship, under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Woodward. The covered dish supper is scheduled for 6:30 p.m.

Our new Woodard furniture changed our patio... and our lives!

We really started to believe in "gracious living" the day our lovely CHA-TEAU LORRAINE by WOODARD was delivered. It has given our patio the leisure-look along with the elegance of traditional styling. It's airy... and beautiful... and weathresistant. We love it!

All WOODARD furniture is pledged with a 10-year warranty against rust.
Glass top tables all feature tempered safety glass.
Every chair, table and sec-
